

Knowing our workforce

When we know our workforce, we are better able to share knowledge, use data and research to develop our programs and engage with each other on important issues.

Use these resources to get started.

Networking events and knowledge sharing

Find out about networking events and opportunities for knowledge sharing. Some networks are for Aboriginal people only, others are for all employees.

Engaging with our Advisory group

How to seek advice on strategic issues affecting Aboriginal people and communities.
